Focus:

As a LGBTQ+ Latina and a mother of triplets, Cervantes advocates for strengthening public safety (i.e., creating safe and healthy communities for families in the Inland Empire and improving cybersecurity), broaden access to quality education (e.g., debt-free college, and encouraging the pursuit of higher education, particularly career technical education), protecting the voting rights of the Latino community, LGBTQ+ rights and equality (i.e., strengthening existing anti-discrimination policies for LGBTQ+ resource families and end the statutory stigma attached to LGBTQ+ foster children by eliminating the term “hard to place children” from state laws), strengthening democracy in Riverside County, sexual assault awareness, helping local veterans, seniors, and small businesses, affordable housing, enhancing the local economy, international investments, Binational affairs, improving law enforcement relations, pro-environment (i.e., improving environmental quality), strengthening veteran employment /education, developing environmental protection plans (particularly for wildfires), developing and renovating parks and recreational facilities, improving access to governmental services and public transportation.

Prior to her public service, Cervantes worked as a Director for the California Voter Registration Project where she led and implemented strategic planning that would increase civic responsibility among new and eligible voters across California. Currently, Cervantes serves on the Advisory Board for the University of California, Riverside (UCR) School of Public Policy and on the Board of Directors for UCR Chicano Latino

Alumni Association, as well as a member of the Human Rights Campaign, and the Riverside Pick Group of Young Professionals.
