Focus:

As the first Black openly LGBTQ+ person elected to the State Assembly, Dr. Jackson advocates for social justice equity and inclusion (e.g., conducting culturally responsive interventions and spreading cultural competency awareness), healthcare as a human right (i.e., establishing universal childcare, achieving healthcare equity and accessibility, and improving the quality of care), protecting the environment (e.g., quality, safe, and clean air and water), affordable housing as a human right (i.e., California must guarantee safe, healthy and affordable housing for all residents), education reforms (i.e., California must guarantee students with accessible, high-quality, antiracist, and trauma-informed education), increase mental health services in schools, eliminate the criminalization of children, promoting the concept of “One Job Should Be Enough” (i.e., California must promote and demand employment that makes sure that residents not only survive but thrive), uplifting the vulnerable and working-class communities (i.e., having equal opportunities to jobs/careers, healthcare, and rights as upper-class communities), and strengthening youth development (i.e., ensuring a safe, healthy, and supportive environment for future generations).

Dr. Jackson currently serves as the Founder and Chairman/CEO of Sigma Beta Xi (SBX) Youth and Family Services whose mission is to break the cycle of poverty and violence through mentoring, education, and community organizing. SBX has made strides to improve youth development and reduce police violence/power of law enforcement as seen in a historic settlement with Riverside County in 2019 as the county agreed to the settlement of a lawsuit against the unconstitutional Youth Accountability Team (YAT) program, which sweeps thousands of young people, especially those of color, into a punitive supervision program for minor adolescent behaviors and funnels them into the criminal justice system. Dr. Jackson has continued to serve his community as the Political Action Chair of the Riverside National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), as the Founder/Co-Director of the Center Against Racism and Trauma (CART), and as a youth minister at the Moreno Valley Church of Christ.
